FEATHERS AND FUR...

Why, no one knows, but Herald offices are becoming attractive to domestic animals like a big hound dog, here for several weeks, and a small cat, which wandered in this week.

Once in a while, we have a mouse, or during destruction of some old, empty buildings signs of a rat appear, if not in person.

The dog, which was fed for several weeks, finally found a home. And the cat appears to have established him, her or itself the first day. It is possible for a cat to be an "it", you know. Way things are going, clothes and all, the neuter may apply to people as well.

Once in a greater while, a sparrow flies in the wide back doors and heads for skylights in the back of the building, usually banging itself senseless against the windows once the doors are closed.

Everybody has crickets, hardly worth mention in the same "woof" or "meow" about some of our other friends. And we find several of his kind from time to time, overlooked in his crispy silence until he crackles under foot.

Don't misunderstand. We are not a haven for any of these visitors, who sometime command more interest than the news of the day. They just show up, and usually hungry.

Crickets eat paper, we learned years ago. Dogs and cats eat what staffers put before them. Rodents get a bite or two from a little brown sack they ultimately find, and die. Birds, well, they're so fussy they won't come down from the frantic ceiling, though they might drop a "missile" or two before they expire or crack up.

But, no, we are not a branch of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. The SPCA would probably shudder at the conditions some of these unfortunates endure here, on their transient way to some new home.

One look at my old office, and people used to wonder if it was fit for people, let alone a newspaperman. But we changed that with all the modernization a couple of years ago.

It is interesting that none of these strays started showing up until we went modern. Maybe the SPCA checked us out and gave a tentative okay.

The real reason, of course, is that any stray ends up with his, her or its picture in the latest edition. And people phone and come in to see if they can claim one.

We don't mind. Staff tells me the gentle treatment they give our "visitors" may be just the example I need to qualify for the human race in my harsher moments.

Maybe, then, they'll put my picture in the paper.

4-Quarters School Year Wins Approval

By William Keller
Reuter Correspondent

MOLALLA, Ore. The four-quarters school year, an innovation that has failed in several larger U.S. cities, has won early approval in this tiny logging and farming town about 20 miles south of Portland, Ore.

Molalla Elementary School is the first in Oregon to adopt a year-round class calendar, and after the summer quarter of its first year teachers, students and administrators are almost unanimously pleased.

Some even believe the trial has provided incentive to other Oregon school districts similarly plagued by overcrowded classrooms and voter resistance to higher taxes.

"It's been easy, almost too easy," said Sam Wilson, superintendent of the 1,000-student school district. "Sometimes I wonder if we forgot something."

Under the four-quarters schedule, the year is divided into four parts, with three-fourths of the student body attending classes at any given time. It is the simplest of several plans for using school facilities throughout the year.

Originally tried unsuccessfully in Bluffton, Indiana, in 1904, the plan has since failed in Omaha, Neb., Albuquerque, N.M., Chattanooga, Tenn., El Paso, Texas and other cities, usually because of administrative complications and community objections to summer-time studies.

Molalla (population 2,000) became Oregon's first year-round school after voters balked at approving a $1.5 million levy for new school construction.

"In effect, we got nine new classrooms without pounding a nail," said Wilson. "And for every four classrooms we build in the future, we will get one free."

Starting the second quarter of operations, Wilson said the plan had not only saved money but revived education.

He says: "A drop in class sizes of about 25 per cent has assured each student of more individual attention."

Student absenteeism has dropped by more than 75 per cent, and teacher absenteeism has almost disappeared.

The school has fewer discipline problems, and students who used to attend class grudgingly have been going with new enthusiasm.

"During the sunny summer quarter, students were freed from the 'trap of four walls' for outdoor classes and field trips."

"Our classroom was anywhere within 50 miles of the community," Wilson said.

New classes have been added to the curriculum, and teachers say there is a new openness to educational innovation.

"We had become very stale," the superintendent said. "Our curriculum was almost at a standstill. Now some people are saying we conducted more education in our first five weeks of the new schedule than we did in 10 weeks of conventional school."

One difficulty arose when voters refused to vote $60,000 for air-conditioning of the one-storey grade school.

The school was forced to adopt an "early - bird" (7:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.) shift so students would be free before sizzling summer afternoons made classrooms unbearably hot.

The usual 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. shift was reinstated for the autumn quarter.

The money squeeze that prompted the change has been resolved, at least temporarily. Wilson added only $68,000 to his nine-month budget of $800,000 to allow the additional three months, and he believed the amount was enough. Growing enrollment will mean need for a new building in about five years, Wilson said, but once it is built it will be used more efficiently than under a conventional school calendar.

Urban Renewal Group Studies New Directives

Four more small businesses will qualify for displacement payments under the new directives from Housing and Urban Development (HUD), according to A. W. McCullin, executive director of the Cameron Urban Renewal Agency.

At a regular meeting of the Cameron Urban Renewal Committee McCullin reported on a three day trip to Tulsa, where new directives for urban renewal projects were explained.

However, the Agency is still awaiting funds for rehabilitation loans. McCullin said he had called and talked to Cong. W. R. Poage about the delay. McCullin said the lack of funds is holding up the rehabilitation of some buildings in the renewal area.

The new directives put more responsibility on local authorities, McCullin said. More decisions are to be made at the local level, "which is a good thing," he said.

At the Monday night meeting, the Projects Committee was enlarged to form a Project and Grievance committee, required of the agency under the new directives.

Appointed to the committee are Gene Smitherman, chairman; Bernay Dusek, Chili Manning, Irving Born-feld, Mrs. Perry Holder, Ed Schiller, and Lawrence Zotz.

The committee will be liaison between the director, the committee, and the general public.

McCullin is leaving Sunday for Lubbock, where he will attend another three-day institute on relocation.

He reported progress on several buildings in the renewal area:

Duke & Ayres has purchased two adjoining buildings and is starting a work program for remodeling.

J. C. Penney Co. has started its improvement program by installing carpet in the ladies department.

Green Furniture Co. is awaiting carpet to be installed in the building that formerly housed M&L Motors, before moving the furniture in.

The Milam Hotel is also carrying out a renovation program.

Bigbee Enterprises is remodeling the former Cameron Leather Shop location and Tex Miller has repainted his shop and brought it up to standard, McCullin said.

The building housing the Health Unit and the commodity office is also being remodeled.

And the Manning building, corner Central and First, will be cleaned out and turned over to contractors soon.

Registration Changes

A new year-round voter registration law went into effect for Texans on October 1.

Major provisions in the new registration act are:

Voters can register at any time (except for a temporary cutoff 31 days before each election). Registration is good for three years, and is automatically renewed by participation in an election during that period.

The old registration period, one of the shortest in the nation, was October 1 - January 31.

Eighteen to 21 year olds may register and are eligible to vote in local, state, and federal elections under a new U. S. constitutional amendment.

Roving or resident registration deputies may sign up voters anywhere -- apartments, union halls, club rooms, dormitories, industrial plants, office buildings, supermarkets or private residences. The law provides that "no voter registrar shall refuse to deputize a person."

This is expected to increase sharply the use of deputies to round up voters.

Predictions are that the new law will make significant changes in the political structure of the state, according to an Austin news source. New rules governing the operation of political party conventions also will begin operating next year.

Voters must have resided in the state a year and in the county for six months to qualify for local election participation. Those who have lived in Texas more than 30 days but less than a year before the November 1972 general election can vote for presidential and vice presidential candidates under special residency registration with county clerks

Gun Wound Fatal For Joe Alfaro

Investigation was continuing late Wednesday into the gunshot death of Joe Alfaro, 28 of Mumford. The Cameron native was found dead of a gunshot wound early Tuesday morning Bryan Russ, Robertson County Attorney, said a court of inquiry was held Tuesday, but no ruling on the death had been made.

Russ said Alfaro died between 1 and 1:30 a.m. Tuesday.

Funeral was at 10 a.m. Thursday at the Belsted Sacramento Catholic Church in Cameron, the Rev. Jimmy Greenwell officiating. Burial in Sunny Side Cemetery in Calvert.

Mr. Alfaro was a parts salesman.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Karlan Alfaro, and a daughter, Lisa Leann Alfaro of Mumford; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Alfaro of Maysfield; his grandmother, Mrs. Frances Alfaro of Bryan; a brother, Manuel Alfaro of Maysfield; and two sisters, Mrs. Sally Young of Houston and Mrs. Dolores Mendoza of Temple.

Yoe Faces Westlake In District Opener

By Marilyn Hauk

The Yoemen travel to Westlake this week to battle the Westlake Chaparrals in the district opener for both teams.

In getting to the Westlake Stadium one should take I-35 into Austin until reaching Ben White Blvd. Turn left and travel forward about five miles and there is a sign on the right directing one to Westlake High School.

The Yoemen will see Richard Cummings and Joe Vaculin back in action after a two week absence. David Hollas is permanently out for the season after a recent knee operation.

The Chaparrals are a quick team and have scored a total of 164 this year. A total of 13 points have been allowed to opposing teams. All five non-district games have been won.

In the McGregor game Rosemond led in rushing with a total of 77 yards. Sam Knight had a total of 36 yards. Jimmy Bailey gained 37 yards. George Whiteside gained 13 yards. Twenty yards were gained by Virgil Jones. Will Turner gained 6 yards.

Turner gained 34 yards in passing with 4 completions out of 6 attempts.

Jackie Chubb gained 34 yards with 4 receptions. In punting, Chubb punted 5 times for a 35 yard average.

Another Milam Leader...

A fitting climax to Texas and Milam County's 4-H Week is the announcement that Cameronite, Melvin Hollas, is recipient of Texas' highest 4-H award.

Hollas, a sophomore at Blinn Junior College, Brenham, won a $500 Santa Fe Scholarship and a trip to the national 4-H Congress later this year in Chicago.

Without going into it, Melvin Hollas' record in modern 4-H work at various levels speaks for itself. And that is what counts: a record that stands the test of comparison among one's peers.

This Milam Countian is a leader. And he doesn't have to tell anyone about it. He knows by action. The results show it. And when he gets to Chicago, his performance, no doubt, will be in keeping with the record that sent him there.

Triumph And Tragedy...

If we may, we would like to quote from a mailing by C. R. Law, chairman of the Milam Democratic Party, to members of the Party's county committee.

It quotes Leon Jaworski, now president of the American Bar Association, and a man of national stature as an attorney and as a leader.

QUOTE: The problems facing America are linked to a failure in many places and in many parts; a lack of citizen response to calls for involvement must bear a part of the blame.

Americans must answer today's challenge by furnishing leadership, in the homes and in the schools, in the churches and in the clubs. They must bring the voice of reason to small groups and to large groups.

Far from being a silent majority, they must represent a vocal majority, a vociferous majority, if need be, so there will be heard across the land the rejuvenated spirit of America.

END OF QUOTE.
To Jaworski's appeal for reason, we continue to add our small voice. He is speaking the language of the America we knew and must know in the future, a composite of all the triumph and tragedy of the human race.

PCB: LITTLE KNOWN CHEMICAL MENACE

REP. W.F. Ryan (N.Y.)
"During the course of the past few months, we have witnessed a growing contamination of our food by an extremely dangerous industrial chemical -- polychlorinated biphenyl -- PCB.

"Yesterday I brought to the attention of the House the fact that the Nation's largest meat-packing firm -- Swift & Co., has discovered that some 50,000 turkeys in Minnesota have been heavily contaminated with PCB's.

"The State of Michigan has ordered the suspension of a program of free distribution of thousands of the State's famed coho salmon to fishermen as a result of finding inordinately high levels of PCB's in the fish.

"FDA officials seized 75,000 fresh shell eggs in Norfolk, Va., but allowed another 60,000 eggs with virtually identical levels of PCB's to go on sale in Washington, D.C.

"FDA seized 45,000 pounds of Ralston Purina Co., catfish feed in Louisiana, Georgia, and Mississippi and Ralston Purina issued a recall for an additional 1,000 tons of fish feed.

"National By - Products, Inc., of Mason City, Ill., was forced to recall 48 tons of rendered meat meal, because of high levels of PCB's.

"And 146,000 chickens in New York State were slaughtered after Campbell Soup Co., discovered PCB contamination in poultry from that area.

"These occurrences tragically illustrate the failure of the Federal Government to take preventive action to control this deadly chemical...

"Therefore, I have introduced legislation H.R. 10085, to totally ban the distribution of PCB's in interstate commerce, thus insuring that our health and our environment are safeguarded from the hazards of this chemical.

"Perhaps the crux of the matter is best characterized by a statement by a FDA official as reported in the September 3 edition of SCIENCE magazine:
"WE CAN'T BE HELD AC-COUNTABLE FOR EVERY G-D---CHEMICAL."

"I submit that is precisely the responsibility of the FDA -- to insure to the best of its ability that the public is protected from the dangers of all hazardous chemical contaminants.

"If the Food and Drug Administration is unwilling or unable to live up to this responsibility, then these functions should be transferred to an agency that can do so with vigor and enthusiasm."

A GRASSROOTS COMMENT

Sewage disposal plants are equipped with a manual, "STANDARD METHODS FOR THE EXAMINATION OF WATER AND SEWAGE, 13th Edition." It fails to list a method of detecting Polychlorinated biphenyl (PCB). The chemical being colorless and odorless is not discovered until it reaches the food supply.

The effect of excessive amounts of PCB in humans is far from clear.-J.C.

State To Fight For Title To Padre Island Treasure

By Bill Boykin

The state is prepared to go to the U.S. Supreme Court to get title to all artifacts recovered from Spanish galleons which sank off Padre Island more than 400 years ago.

Texas Antiquities Committee was told a decision is near by Brownsville federal court in a long legal dispute over the treasure. Platoro Ltd., a Gary, Ind., salvage firm, recovered the valuables in 1967 and proposes a 50-50 split with the state which demands the entire treasure.

Meanwhile, Committee learned an underwater archaeologist has agreed to help set up a program to recover artifacts from another ancient Spanish galleon near Padre Island next year.

COURTS SPEAK

The Supreme Court dismissed the appeal of relatives of Clyde Barrow who lost a suit against Warner Brothers Studio claiming character defamation in the movie "Bonnie and Clyde."

In a pile of other decisions released after a summer recess, the High Court:

* Set a November 17 review of a San Antonio district court ruling which the Alcoholic Beverage Commission maintains would rob it of its power to suspend dealers' licenses for violations.

* Upheld an injunction against a Tarrant County dentist who allegedly claimed he could diagnose and treat cancer.

* Said the Texas Railroad Commission has power to change natural gas prices covered by contracts between cities and pipeline companies when it finds a change is in the public interest. The case grew out of High Plains Natural Gas Company's effort to get a price increase for gas sold to the city of Perryton.

* Turned down city of Azle's appeal from the 1969 incorporation of Sanctuary in Parker County, holding Azle had not proved its jurisdiction over the property.

* Booked November 3 hearing of Denton County case in which a father sued his son who backed a car into him for negligence.

* Held parents can collect damages for pre-natal injuries to an unborn child hurt in an auto collision.

* Scheduled a hearing on an appeal from granting of a charter to Modern Savings and Loan Association, Pasadena.

Court of Criminal Appeals reversed and sent back for a new trial the conviction and 100-year sentence of a Dallas man for robbery by assault.

AG OPINIONS

Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin held a new statute attempting to exempt churches and veterans organizations from lottery laws is unconstitutional.

In another recent opinion, Martin interpreted incidental expenses which the comptroller may pay state employees in connection with their travels as those "reasonably necessary to performance of official duties" while away from their desks. A $35 a day limit is set for travel expenses outside state boundaries.

Special rangers hired by statewide organizations to promote cooperation with law enforcement agencies are peace officers and must meet minimum standards of selection and training established by Texas Commission on Law Enforcement Officer Standards and Education.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editor:

By 1974, according to an article I read in a newspaper last night, all new cars must be equipped with seat belts that have to be fastened before the car will start.

This was ordered, the government said, because despite the fact all new cars now come equipped with seat belts, less than 30 per cent of the people use them.

So, after 1974, the seat belt will be hooked up with wires somehow with the ignition switch, and the car won't start unless the belt is fastened.

This sounds like a good idea and if it works it ought to be utilized further.

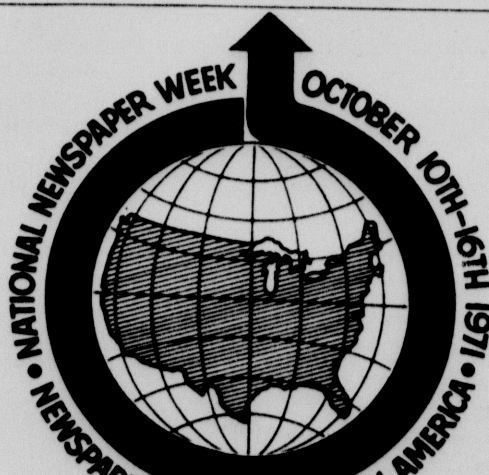

For example, instead of a key to start your car with, the government should require a punch card and a complicated slot on the dashboard. With the right holes punched and the card inserted, the car starts only if the seat belt is fastened. But another series of holes won't let it start unless you've registered to vote, another unless you've actually voted, another unless you've paid your taxes, another unless you've had all your shots, donated to the community chest, etc.

You get the idea. You can shape this country up almost completely through the punch card system of turning on the ignition in everybody's car. By putting enough holes in the card to cover practically everything, morally, ecologically, politically, etc. you could come up with a system whereby anybody who could still start his car after 20 years of driving would be qualified to serve on the Supreme Court without even being investigated. Like it is, if you investigate far enough, you may find nobody is qualified for the Court or anything else.

However, if the government limits its fastened-seat-belt rule just to seat belts, what's to keep a man from carefully fastening all the seat belts in his car with nobody in them, sitting on the one in the driver's seat, and taking off as usual? I've always said Congress ought to study human nature more.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

New Regulations Govern Passing School Buses

The following information has been received in the office of Max McClaren, County Schools Supt., regarding regulations concerning school buses while buses are transporting children on the highway, farm to market roads, and other roads.

A major revision of the traffic law was passed by the 62nd Legislature, with several revisions applying to identification, operation, and equipment of the school buses.

One section requires that buses shall have signal lights at the front and rear of the bus, which will be flashing when the bus stops to pick up or unload school children.

Another section deals with overtaking and passing school buses:

Drivers shall, in meeting or seeing a school bus that has stopped on the street, highway or road to discharge or pick up children, shall stop his vehicle before reaching the bus that is flashing its signal lights.

The driver shall not proceed until the bus resumes motion or is signaled by the bus driver to proceed or the flashing lights stop flashing.

ANCIENT COINS FOUND

Kafr el Sheikh, Egypt, Reuter - Workingmen, digging a canal in this delta town, discovered a pot of gold coins from the Roman and Byzantine eras. They sold the coins to goldsmiths for five Egyptian pounds (just over $12) a piece. The estimated value of the coins is $60,000.

County Agent's Notes

County Landfills To Be Discussed

By Bill McCutchen

Sanitary land fills will be discussed at a meeting to be held at the Sharp Presbyterian church at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, October 19, according to Mrs. Wavy Charles, community leader, and County Commissioner Dalton Caffey. The meeting is primarily for persons in the Davilla, Sharp, Tracy, and San Gabriel communities, but anyone interested is welcome to attend.

Solid wastes are an enormous problem for rural areas as well as city dwellers. Ask any rural property owner how he likes someone to dump trash in his creek or beside the road in his community. It is a shame, but it happens frequently and many times it is because there is no community landfill.

A sanitary landfill could well be a help to a landowner. A deep gully could be turned into a needed community landfill and at the same time improve the property.

The program will be presented by the Milam County Rural Development Committee.

ARMYWORMS

Armyworms are still causing havoc in Milam County. The pesky insects have been around since early August and are still causing problems.

Several farmers in the last week have called about armyworm damage on small grains including Frank Mikulec of the Marakville Community.

Armyworms are fond of small grains and can do a lot of damage in a short while. I would encourage farmers to inspect small grain fields frequently. This is the fourth generation of armyworms that we have had in some sections of Milam County.

BOLLWEEVIL CONTROL

Wet weather and late cotton in some parts of the county will make early harvest and stalk destruction impossible for some producers, but I would remind you that this is one of the best methods of reducing boll weevil, pink bollworm, bollworm, and tobacco budworm populations. Particular attention should be given to destruction of green or cracked bolls and other debris left at the end row following stripper harvest.

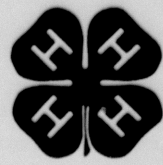

These practices force the boll weevil into starvation before time to enter winter quarters, prevent late-season buildup of weevils, pink bollworms, bollworms and tobacco budworms and reduce the number surviving the winter.

The addition of a half pound of methyl parathion or a fourth pound of Guthion to arsenic acid or defoliant has also been effective in reducing overwintering boll weevil populations.

CHURCH CONFERENCE

The 26th annual Town and Country Church Conference is slated for October 14-15 at Texas A&M University, says Ken Wolf, Extension economist and conference economist and conference publicity chairman. Theme for the event is "The Changing Faces in the Pews." About 150 rural ministers from across the state are expected to attend.

FARM and CITY

4-H Activities

By Danny Phillips

Boy and Girl, guest speaker Dan Kubiak, and Sandra Cobb and Joseph Jistel, winners of the Mr. and Miss 4-H Contest.

The past couple of weeks have indeed been busy, yet they have been wonderful weeks for the 4-H Clubs of Milam County. The presence of National 4-H Week was felt in all parts of the county and many, many people made the celebration a wonderful occasion. The 4-H members and staff extend a big "thank you" to everybody that helped make the occasion a big success.

The 4-H Awards Banquet was held Saturday night, October 9 at the New Salem H.D. Clubhouse in Rockdale. The Banquet honored some 55 award winners and several special state winners.

The annual program recognizes outstanding achievement and top leadership in 4-H in Milam County. Many different project groups were honored at the Rockdale affair.

The following 4-H'ers received awards:

Achievement: Daniel Richardson, Cameron 4-H Club; Peggy Stephens, Rockdale 4-H Club; Beef Wynona Scroggins and Rhonda Scroggins, Thorndale 4-H Club; Citizenship: Leroy Stephens, Rockdale 4-H Club.

Clothing: Sr. Div.: Naomi Brown, Minerva 4-H Club; Paula Fleming, Cameron 4-H Club; Josi Garza, Minerva 4-H Club; Jr. Div.: Karla Stanislaw, Susan Angell, Marta Hollister, and Sandra Broadus, all of Cameron 4-H Club; Priscilla Lamere, Minerva 4-H Club; Angie Garza, Rockdale 4-H Club; Martha Garza, Rockdale 4-H Club.

Consumer Education - Home Economics: Deborah Stephens, Rockdale 4-H Club; Dairy: Donald Fleming and Linda Lemons, Cameron 4-H Club; Stanley Rosemond, Maysfield 4-H Club; Dog Care and Training: David Cobb, Cameron 4-H Club; Mark Hilton, Minerva 4-H Club; Suzy Tumlinson, Cameron 4-H Club.

Dress revue: Lynn Ann Falke, Thorndale 4-H Club, Jr. Division; Belinda Hel-Jr. Division; Belinda Helpert, Burlington 4-H Club, Sr. Division; Entomology: Peter Riola, Cameron 4-H Club; Foods and Nutrition: Brenda Westerman, Thorndale 4-H Club; Food Preservation: Cathy Garza, Rockdale 4-H Club; Field Crops: Bernard Tepera, Cameron 4-H Club.

Horticulture: Larry Cone,

Minerva 4-H Club; Vanessa Marak, St. Anthony 4-H Club; Gerald Cobb, Cameron 4-H Club; Leadership: Rosemary Ehler, Cameron 4-H Club; Connie Cone, Minerva 4-H Club; Public Speaking: Carolyn Helpert, Burlington, 4-H Club.

Poultry: Brian Cobb, Ronald Cobb, Curtis Wise, Rebecca Riola all of Cameron 4-H Club; Barbara Winkler, St. Anthony 4-H Club; Rabbits: Johnny Ray Marak, St. Anthony 4-H Club; Santa Fe: Melvin Hollas, Santa Fe, Cameron 4-H Club; Sheep: Debra Fleming and Juliann McDaniel, Cameron 4-H Club.

Swine: David Lemons, Davilla 4-H Club; Gary Cobb, Robert Riola, Lisa Cobb, Gery Hollas, and Sandra Cobb, Cameron 4-H Club; Tractor: Martin Mueck, Cameron 4-H Club.

Two of the biggest highlights of the banquet was the announcements of the winners of the Gold Star Award and Mr. & Miss 4-H winners. Gold Star is the highest award given to the outstanding girl and boy in the county. This year's winners were Paula Fleming and David Ehler. They were presented with medals and beautiful trophies presented by the Cameron Chamber of Commerce.

Paula is a member of the Cameron 4-H Club and is an outstanding leader in her club. She serves as a junior project leader and participated in the District Leadership La. She has served her club in various offices and this year is treasurer of the 4-H Council. She is the daughter of Mr. & Mrs. Wayne Fleming of Cameron.

David Ehler is a 6 year veteran of 4-H and was this year's Gold Star Boy. David also is an outstanding leader and has also held offices in his local club. He is a member of the Poultry Judging team and was high point team member at the State contest this year. He was Mr. 4-H in 1969. He is the son of Mr. & Mrs. Frankie Ehler of Cameron.

Winners in the Mr. & Miss Contest represented the Cameron 4-H Club. Sandra Cobb and Joseph Jistel won the coveted honor after their club raised the most money in the month long contest.

Sandra Cobb is a 3 year member of 4-H. She is active in club activities. She has served in various offices in the Cameron and Senior Teen Club. She has carried projects in swine and placed a barrow 8th at San Antonio last year and has participated in the 4-H Dress Revue. Her parents are Mr. & Mrs. Derwood Cobb.

Joseph Jistel was the Mr. 4-H winner. Joseph is a capable leader in his club and is serving as the chairman of the 4-H Council this year. His outstanding accomplishments have included being a member of the State winning Poultry Judging team and is a member of the Dairy Judging team that won District and 8th at State this year. His parents are Mr. & Mrs. Richard Jistel of Cameron.

ANIMAL HEALTH

MEETING SET

By John E. Snell
Assoc. Co. Agri. Agent

An educational meeting on Animal Health will be held in the Gause Community on Thursday, October 14, at 8 p.m. in the Gause Elementary School.

This meeting is an educational activity for the Milam County Intensified Farm Planning Program.

Dr. James Armstrong, Extension Service Veterinarian, from Texas A&M University will conduct the meeting.

Dr. Armstrong is a graduate of Cornell University. His experience includes veterinary practice, 1942-44; Military Veterinarian, 1944-64; Veterinary Consultant, 1964-66; Veterinary Research advisor in the Dominican Republic, 1966-70; and has been Extension Service Veterinarian since 1970.

Dr. Armstrong works with all aspects of the Extension veterinary program. He is a member of the American and Texas Veterinary Medical Associations, Dominican Veterinary Association and has worked with several international veterinary groups.

This meeting is open to the general public and any individual that desires to attend is welcome.

Refreshments will be served.

Windbreak Seedlings Should Be Ordered Now

Although it's a little early to be thinking about winter and spring winds, now is the time to submit applications for seedlings that will be used for windbreaks.

That word comes from Bill Smith, forestry specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Applications for windbreak seedlings are available from local county Extension offices, or from the Indian Mound Nursery, Box 337, Alto, Texas. "It's important to apply early since orders are processed on a first come, first serve basis," says Smith. "However, seedling shipments won't begin until mid-December."

The seedlings come from the Texas Forest Service's Indian Mound Nursery and are priced at $2.50 per 100. Pine seedlings for reforestation are also available. The planter must agree that the seedlings will not be used for ornamental purposes, points out the specialist.

Some 16 species of seedlings are presently available. These include baldcypress, black locust, black walnut, catalpa, Chinese elm, cottonwood, eucalyptus, green ash, loblolly pine (drought-hardy), mulberry, bois d'arc (osage orange), ponderosa pine, shortleaf pine, slash pine, sweetgum, and sycamore.

"Many of the species are widely adapted, but some should be planted only in certain areas of the state," explains Smith. "If you have questions about certain species, direct them to your county Extension agent, the Indian Mound Nursery, or Texas Forest Service officials at Texas A&M University, College Station, or Texas Tech University, Lubbock."

Discussing some of the species, the specialist says that the Arizona cypress, for instance, does well in all areas of the state except the Panhandle. The catalpa and Chinese elm are both drought resistant but are susceptible to cotton root rot.

The euonymus, honeylocust, and bois d'arc all are hardy and do well in the drier portions of the state. Cottonwoods perform best on bottomland sites while eucalyptus are suitable only for the Rio Grande Valley.

The ponderosa pine is recommended only for areas above the Caprock while the loblolly pine desires areas with an annual rainfall of at least 20 inches.

Immediately upon receipt of shipment," advises Smith.

"Since roots of conifers (evergreens) are easily killed if exposed to air for more than a few minutes, planting should follow a quick pace. Plant seedlings an inch or so deeper than they grew in the nursery bed. Be sure the roots are fully extended in the hole in a vertical manner."

The specialist advises that rows of trees should be spaced wide enough apart to accommodate cultivating equipment. Trees should be planted in a staggered arrangement in different rows to hasten the windbreak effect. If space does not allow three or four rows of trees, a single row of conifers will produce an acceptable windbreak.

Conifers should always be watered immediately after planting to settle the soil around the roots, adds the specialist. During a dry summer, waterings may be required on a weekly basis. Frequent, shallow cultivations aid survival and boost growth. Pruning should be avoided except to clean up broken or damaged trees.

"By selecting the proper seedlings and planting and caring for them as directed, you can begin to enjoy the benefits of a windbreak in a few years," says Smith.

Market Report

There were 1010 cattle and calves consigned to the Cameron Livestock Auction, according to official report. This compared with 625 last week and 900 last year.

Slaughter cows and bulls were steady to 50 higher, few slaughter calves steady. Feeder steers steady. Steer calves steady to 50 higher with advance on choice.

Feeder heifers and heifer calves full 50 lower. Stock cows steady in short supply. Cow and calf pairs steady. Demand was good with strongest outlet for feeder steers and slaughter cows.

Some prices paid were: Slaughter cows, utility and commercial 20 to 23. Slaughter bulls, utility and commercial 26.50 to 29.60. Slaughter calves good 30.50 to 32.75.

Feeders steers choice 45. to 50.00. Feeder heifers good and choice 36.00 to 40.00. Stock cows, few good 21.00 to 23.00. Cow and calf pairs choice 280 to 310. Hog receipts totaled 725 head, with barrows and gilts 50 to 75 higher and sows steady.

Barrows and gilts, US 1-3 brought 19.90 to 20.40. Boars 8.50 to 10.70. Sows, US 1-3 15.00 to 16.90.

FB Hears Neumann

Guest speaker for the Milam County Farm Bureau's membership kickoff dinner was Don J. Neumann, assistant director of Field Services, from the state FB office at Waco.

Neumann spoke on "What the Farm Bureau Stands For." He noted that the organization is independent and is a non-governmental voluntary group of farm and ranch families, united for the purpose of analyzing their problems and formulating action to achieve educational improvement, economic opportunity and social advancement.

Farm Bureau works for agriculture through legislation, marketing, family services, education, and community activities. Neumann urged all FB members to try to contact everyone and give them an opportunity to join and participate in all the services that are offered a Farm Bureau member.

The membership drive will extend through October 31.

The Wage-Price Freeze

This column of questions and answers on the Wage and Price Freeze is provided by the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service. The column answers questions most frequently asked about the Wage and Price Freeze announced August 15 by President Nixon.

Q - Can prices be raised on World Series tickets?

A - No. The admission price for sporting events, such as this, occurring during the freeze period may be no higher than charges made during the applicable base period. In the case of the World Series, this will generally be the price charged last year.

Q - My employer is transferring me to a higher cost-of-living area. It has been the policy of my company to increase the pay of employees transferred to such areas. Can I receive this increase?

A - Yes. However, your employer must be able to document the existence of such a plan prior to the freeze, and must not increase the differential during the freeze.

Q - Can deposits for apartments be raised during the freeze?

A - No. This is not permitted during the freeze.

Q - I want to apply for an exemption from the freeze. How do I go about doing it?

A - Persons seeking exemptions from the price, wage or rent ceilings should submit written requests in duplicate to the Director of the Office of Emergency Preparedness Regional Office for their geographical area.

The request should state:

1. name, address and telephone number;

2. nature of business;

3. manner in which the wage-price freeze is believed to be grossly inequitable;

4. the specific relief sought, and

5. whether the individual or anyone affiliated with him has been granted or applied for an exception, exemption or adjustment.

Q - Prior to August 15, my company scheduled a profit-sharing program for its employees. Can the program be implemented during the freeze?

A - No. A company's previously scheduled profit-sharing program cannot be implemented during the freeze. All other fringe benefits, including expense accounts, commissions, discounts, stock options, payments for deferred compensation, etc., are also frozen.

Q - My church is asking us to increase our contributions. Can this be done during the freeze?

A - Yes. Charitable contributions are not frozen by the President's order.

Q - How can you tell if a distributor of imported goods, must show on the goods is passing on the import surcharge to consumers?

A - An importer, or distributor of imported goods, must show on the sales ticket or invoice, in dollars and cents, the surcharge passed on to the purchaser. If the importer or distributor elects to pass on only a portion of the surcharge, he is still required to indicate penny-for-penny the exact amount passed on.

For and about WOMEN

Several Farewell Parties Honor Mrs. Geo. Graves

Mrs. George T. Graves, who moved to Wesleyan at Georgetown Wednesday, was honored at several parties in Cameron during the past week.

Mrs. Graves was guest of honor at a dinner - bridge party Tuesday, October 5, at the home of Mrs. Bob Terry. Friends presented the honoree with a gift of stationery.

A neighborhood coffee honored Mrs. Graves Saturday morning at the home of Mrs. D. R. Dodson. Mrs. Dodson and Mrs. George Hollas were co-hostesses. Pink azaleas centered the dining room table where coffee and kolaches were served to about 15 guests.

Women of the All Saints Episcopal Church honored Mrs. Graves at a luncheon Wednesday at Cameron County Club.

An arrangement of greenery and magnolia pods centered the luncheon table for 14.

'Least Coin' Is WOC Circle Study

"Fellowship of the Least Coin" was the study presented by Mrs. J. E. Johnson for members of Circle No. Two of First Presbyterian Church WOC. Mrs. Christine Knipp was hostess for the meeting Monday afternoon at her home.

Thirteen members attended the opening circle meeting in the church new year. Mrs. Harry Tag is circle chairman, Mrs. Knipp, co-chairman, Miss Lenora A. Bickett, secretary, and Mrs. Ladis Marek, treasurer.

Mrs. Tag opened the meeting with a prayer and gave a bible lesson on Isaiah 6.

The hostess served pecan pie topped with whipped cream, coffee and iced tea during the social hour.

Zajicek - Ferguson Repeat Vows

The chapel of Columbus Avenue Baptist Church Waco was the setting for the marriage of Miss Camille Ferguson to David Bruce Zajicek of Willis on Sunday, September 19.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Ferguson of Waco and Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Zajicek, Jr. of Buckholts.

The bride wore a white velvet A-line gown with a Victorian neckline and bishop sleeves trimmed in Venise lace. A band of Venise lace and velvet ribbon held her floor length lace edged veil. She carried a colonial nosegay of feathered carnations, stephanotis, and yellow baby's breath centered with an orchid.

The bride's honor attendant was Miss Diane Daniel of Waco. Her gold velvet dress was trimmed in matching lace and she carried a nosegay of bronze daisy chrysanthemums. Best man was Wacoan Kyle Pilgrim. The bride's brother Kent Ferguson of Waco ushered with another Wacoan Ray Ramsey. Cliff Breitweg of Waco lit candles.

Rev. Ervie Braun of Hope Lutheran Church in Buckholts officiated and Miss Betty Longnecker of Waco was organist.

The bride's parents were hosts for the reception in the church's Spencer Parlor. In the house party were Miss Mary Cashion, Miss Robin Gresham and the groom's sister Miss Janisue Zajicek.

The bride is a graduate of Richfield High School and her husband is a graduate of Buckholts High School. Both attended McLennan Community College. After a wedding trip to the Gulf Coast the couple are living in Willis. David Zajicek is a musician with the group "Texas" who are currently recording with Soundville Studios Inc. of Houston.

BPW Sets Open House

The Cameron Business and Professional Women's Club will observe National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Club Week, October 17 through 23, with an open house at the B&PW Clubhouse, 4th and Milam streets.

Cameron area residents are invited to visit the newly remodeled club house from 3 to 5 p.m.

Pre-Nuptial Tea Shower At Rosebud

Miss Beverly Jo Beinhauer of Rosebud, bride-elect of Gary Huntsman of Cameron, was honored with a tea - shower at Heritage House Dining Room, Tuesday, Oct. 5, from 7 to 9 p.m.

The serving table was laid with a white linen cloth overlaid with net and decorated with large red velvet bows at the corners. The floral arrangement was of white roses and snapdragons centered with a peppermint heart. Crystal and silver table appointments were used throughout in the decorations.

Cranberry punch was served from a crystal bowl at one end of the table by Miss Mary Huntsman, sister of the prospective bridegroom, and cake squares were served from the other end by Miss Beckie Beinhauer, sister of the honoree. Other refreshments were mints and nuts.

Miss Joanie Kensworthy registered the guests in the bride's book.

Special guests were Mrs. Julius Beinhauer of Rosebud, mother of the honoree, and Mrs. Eddy Huntsman of Cameron, mother of the prospective bridegroom.

Hostesses were employees of the Rosebud Medical Services.

The couple will be married October 16 at 7:00 p.m. in the First Methodist Church of Rosebud.

Bremond Church Sets Picnic

Members of St. Mary's Parish in Bremond are staging their annual homecoming picnic and bazaar Sunday, October 17.

The event will feature barbecue chicken and home-made Polish sausage. Both noon and supper meals will be served and barbecued meats may be bought by the pound.

Along with food and refreshments there will be various booths selling home canned goods, baked goods, specially sewn items, bingo, a parcel post sale, cake walks, games, prizes and numerous other entertainment features.

The general auction at 2 p.m., which sells a miscellany of goods, will be a great show in itself.

A cultural sideline this year will be the open house all afternoon in the new St. Mary's Church, dedicated June 13. Benefits from the picnic will go toward reducing the church building debt.

Personal Mention

Mrs. Louise Cullom and Mrs. W. C. Freeman attended the second annual meeting of the Texas Conference of the Woman's Society of Christian Service, held at Baytown Thursday and Friday.

Dale Lafferty, presently stationed at Ft. Carson, Colorado, visited his parents, the J. E. Lafferty's, in Cameron last weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilkerson and Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Holt of San Antonio were recent visitors of Mrs. Lula Wilkerson at the Cameron Nursing Home.

BAKE SALE PLANNED

40 Percent Favor Credit Card Shopping For Groceries

If you could buy food in your favorite grocery store with a credit card the same way you buy gasoline, would you rather the credit card or cash?

Almost 40 percent of 414 persons questioned in a study by the Market Research and Development Center at Texas A&M University said they would rather use credit cards in grocery stores, the only major retail industry which doesn't rely extensively on credit purchases, reports Dr. Thomas Sporleder, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station researcher.

The study analyzed the attitudes of consumers in the Dallas area, grouping their opinions on the basis of income, age and race.

"More middle income consumers possess a favorable attitude toward charge cards than the upper middle - almost 50 percent," Dr. Sporleder says. "There is also higher appeal among the high income respondents."

According to Dr. Sporleder, middle income is defined as $5,000-9,999; upper middle, $10,000 - 15,000; and high, $15,000 and over.

The percentage of consumers in the study under 30 years of age was three times as favorable toward grocery store credit cards as those over 44. The under 30 age group was twice as favorable as the 30-44 age group.

"We found there are two basic ways of viewing a charge card," Dr. Sporleder explains. "One, as a method of borrowing, and the other as a convenience. People who view it as a matter of convenience have a more favorable attitude than those who perceive it as a borrowing tool."

Consumers who favor charge cards in grocery stores like its convenience best, the researcher found. These consumers strongly support the card's usefulness when they run short of money, adding that with credit cards they manage grocery bills better. They also mentioned credit cards enabled them to take advantage of specials.

But the majority of persons surveyed (60 percent) didn't favor use of charge cards in grocery store shopping, Dr. Sporleder says. They felt that credit cards would increase food cost, and others added they didn't want another bill popping up at the end of the month. Some objected because they would be consuming but not have anything to show for it when billed.

"Much has been written about a checkless, cashless society," Dr. Sporleder says. "Grocery stores must have a demand for such a change. We have to see if the demand is present, and if it is, where it is. This type of study indicates just such locations of demand."

According to Dr. Sporleder, researchers can then make recommendations to food stores or chains about credit buying, based on the positive or negative attitudes in their neighborhood location.

Baptist Convention

To Study Federal Aid, Missions

The issue of federal aid to Baptist institutions and the unveiling of a lengthy study on urban missions strategy are expected to capture a major share of attention during the 1971 meeting of the Baptist General Convention of Texas, October 26-28.

Messengers to the annual meeting in Houston will also consider a record budget of $15,250,000 for the Cooperative Program, Baptists major channel of support for worldwide missions causes.

Midway of the annual meeting, messengers will take time out from debating business to join Negro and Mexican-American Baptists from five other conventions in what is billed as a "Spiritual Spectacular" in the Astrodome. BGCT President Jimmy Allen of San Antonio said indications are that the Astrodome may be filled to its 50,000 capacity for the joint Wednesday night evangelistic meeting.

Like the 1.9 - million member BGCT, largest of the Baptist groups in Texas, most of the other Conventions are holding their annual sessions in Houston before and after the joint meeting in the Astrodome.

The BGCT Executive Board approved federal loans and grants for its nine hospitals by a narrow margin at its September meeting, but the final decision belongs to the messengers at the Convention in Houston.

Daniel Calls For Reform In House

BAYTOWN

State Rep. Price Daniel, Jr., Wednesday called for all Texans, regardless of political philosophy or party affiliation, to join in a united effort to bring about reform in the Texas House of Representatives and to enact meaningful ethics legislation.

Daniel, a moderate Democrat and announced candidate for Speaker of the Texas House, 63rd Session, said, "The allegations in the recent indictments and report of the Travis County grand jury illustrate the glaring need for reform in the Texas House. The people of this State should not accept the indictments, or even any convictions that may follow, as the cure to the problem, but rather should demand an end to the concentration of so much power in the hands of the Speaker and his top lieutenants. Under the present system, a few influential friends and well placed House members can do control the fate of legislation and the spending of State funds."

"Reform is urgently needed to restore democracy to the Texas House, so that all House members might be free to vote the dictates of their consciences and represent the best interests of the people of the State, rather than being subjected to intimidation, coercion and pressure by the Speaker and his top lieutenants," said Daniel.

Milam High On US Bond Sales Chart

Purchases of Series E and H United States Savings Bonds in Milam County during the month of August totaled $71,644 according to County Bond Chairman Henry Siebman. Total sales for the eight-month period were $547,705 for 90 per cent of the 1971 sales goal of $610,000.

Texans purchased $18,190,740 in Series E and H Bonds during August for a 20.7 per cent increase over the same month of 1970 and believed to be the highest sales during any August since World War II. Total sales for the eight-month period of both series in Texas were $136,917,471, over $15 1/2 million above the same period last year, a 12.9 per cent increase.

Nationally, E and H Bond sales totaled $516 million for 33 per cent above the same period in 1970, a record for any August since 1952. Year-to-date sales amounted to $3,759 million -- 19.4 per cent above a year earlier.

Brother To Face Brother At A&M - TCU Game

It'll be brother facing brother at times Saturday night in Fort Worth when the Texas Aggies square off against the TCU Horned Frogs. A&M defensive end Dan Peoples could line up against TCU tight end Ronnie Peoples. Ronnie was one year ahead of Dan when both played at Odessa High. . . . What about the parents? Dan says, "They tell me they'll probably cheer for one team the first quarter, the other team the second and so on. . . . In all, some 30 relatives from Odessa plan to see the contest. . . . "Not only will I be facing my brother, but also my best friend, Tookie Berry," Dan says.

This was to be homecoming week for several Aggies who played high school football in Fort Worth. But split receiver Joey Herr broke a collarbone in the LSU game and split receiver Tommy Goodwin broke an ankle in the Texas Tech game. Both are from Fort Worth Eastern Hills, as is linebacker Steve Luebbehusen. Cornerback Lee Hitt is from Fort Worth Arlington Heights. . . .

Mistakes continue to hover over the snakebit Aggies like a dark cloud. Tech scored four touchdowns as the result of Aggie miscues last Saturday night. Tech had to go only six, 43 and eight yards for TDs after getting Aggie fumbles and the other score came on the runback of an intercepted pass. . . .

The Aggies outrushed Tech, 162 yards to 149 but both teams netted 122 yards on the ground. A&M lost 40 and Tech 27. . . . There were 21 punts in the contest, 11 by A&M and 10 by Tech and both teams had 69 plays each. . . . Defensive tackle James Dubcak and linebacker Mike Lord played against Tech after having missed several games because of injuries. . . .

Erstwhile quarterback Mark Green worked at tailback against Tech and picked up 31 yards in eight tries, the longest going for 10 yards. . . .

Goodwin's broken ankle came when he was tackled after gaining five yards and a first down on an end-around play. . . .

It's on the road and back home on alternate weekends the rest of the way for the Aggies who travel to TCU this week and catch Baylor at Kyle Field the following Saturday. Then comes Arkansas, SM&, Rice and Texas, in order. . . . TCU and Arkansas are under the lights, the rest daytime contests. . . .

Jerry Waggoner, who took over as sports editor of The Daily Eagle in Bryan last August, is getting more exposure with a 30-minute TV show every Thursday night. . . .

Doves, Hunters Decline

Dove hunting popularity appears to be declining in Texas. Wildlife specialists for the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department say fewer hunters took to the fields on the opening week-ends of both the North and South Zones this month than they did last year.

Likewise, a comparative handful of hunters participated in the two-weekend white-winged dove hunt in the Lower Rio Grande Valley -- an occasion which has drawn hunters by the thousands in the past.

Officials say it's easier to explain the whitewing hunt failure, as Hurricane Fern doubtless caused some hunt cancellations on the second weekend after a rainy and muddy first weekend.

But the poor hunter turnout statewide for mourning dove shooting may be more complicated to analyze. The weather, economics and the scarcity of birds in some areas before the season opened all may have contributed.

And looming over this dove season -- as in other recent seasons -- is the undeniable fact that the nation's overall dove population is continuing its slow but steady decline which began 10 years ago.

The Texas dove situation this year appeared to be not so much a scarcity of birds as a scarcity of hunters. Add to this trend a tendency of the birds to concentrate heavily in certain "pockets" around the state, and you come out with a low overall dove harvest.

"In a lot of cases," said one biologist, "people went out the first day to their favorite places and didn't see a bird. If they had moved a few miles one way or the other, or if they had come back a week later they might have gotten their limits."

"The birds just haven't been scattered this year," he explained. "Either you see them by the hundreds or you won't see a bird."

This flighty behavior of the mourning dove is part of his makeup, and this unpredictability makes hunting him all the more sporting.

The dove season ends Oct. 30 in the North Zone and winds up Nov. 23 in the South Zone except that in counties having an open season for white-winged doves the season for mourning doves ends Nov. 19.

Biologists have yet to pin down the reasons for the mourning dove's 10-year decline, but the consensus guess is that it results from several factors. Loss of habitat for feeding and nesting, diseases and parasites, pesticides and hunting may all have a share in the bird's statistical slide.

Stewart Brothers Shine For Bears

They came from Odessa Permian, they're premium performers and they're the only set of brothers starting in the Southwest Conference.

They're the Stewart boys, Willie and Tommy, who roam the Baylor defensive secondary with reckless abandon and considerable talent despite physical characteristics more suited to a student manager.

Willie Stewart, or William Mills Stewart as his birth certificate reads, is the older of the two and is starting his second straight season for Coach Bill Beall's Fightin' Bears. The 5-10, 170 pound former quarterback great for Permian turned 22 on September 22 and is a business management major at Baylor. He's also one of the married players on the team, having wed the former Nancy Davis on August 1, 1970.

Thomas Allen Stewart plays the "Bushwhacker" or monster man in the Baylor defense and carries 165 pounds on his 5-9 frame. He turned 21 on September 10 and is a business major. Willie ranked as the second most durable player on the 1970 Baylor team. He got in on 850 plays, just 28 behind linebacker-end Roger Goree. He filled in at quarterback in the SMU game when injuries devastated players at that position, but spent most of his time knocking down enemy aerials and getting in on tackles.

Defensive backfield coach Taylor McNeel says he feels Willie will be one of the better cornerbacks in the league as the season progresses. "He's a tough competitor and doesn't give a n inch," McNeel said.

Tommy, who is a junior and will continue the Stewart dynasty at Baylor next fall, had seven individual tackles and two assists in Baylor's opener against Kansas and knocked down one enemy pass. "He is a very competitive player, is quick and explodes with every ounce of energy he has," McNeel said. He carries the nickname "Bullet" for the manner in which he strikes people."
